

FARM GROUP HERE TO SET GOALS FOR '47

One hundred and fifty representatives of agriculture conservation committees throughout Pennsylvania were gathered here today to begin two-day sessions at the end of which they expect to announce production goals for Pennsylvania's farmers in 1947.

How much the farmer should grow, what he should grow and how prices will stand up were the topics of this morning's talks at the county court house. Additional talks on such things as the Steagall bill's effect on maintaining parity prices and talks on the long range outlook for agriculture are scheduled for this afternoon and Wednesday's sessions conducted by the state Production and Marketing Administration.

But while the farm crops were the major topic of discussion nearly every speaker was adding a third question—how can the nation assure that every individual farmer, merchant, clerk, and industrial worker and all other groups secure a constant flow of income equal to his needs?

R. E. Moody, Washington, agricultural economist for the Northeast Region of the Production Marketing Administration put it this way: "In order to maintain a prosperous economy, it is necessary that a constant flow of income go to all groups and to all individuals who are willing to work. This income must be so distributed that these people are able to buy back the goods and services which the American economy produces."

A. W. Manchester, director, Northeast Region Field Service Branch, PMA put it: "By far the most important condition for continuing farm success is continuing high employment and earning for the mass of people in this country."

TOWN SCHOOL SAFETY PATROL IS ORGANIZED

Approximately 100 pupils of the three public schools and the parochial school of Gettysburg met Monday afternoon at the Meade school and formed a new school safety patrol, under the guidance of Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and Borough Police Officer Albert L. Wolford, and with the cooperation of school officials.

After hearing a talk by Chief Harpster, captains and lieutenants were chosen, and the squads divided into two groups, guides and patrolmen. The guides will give assistance to the younger children within the school buildings, while the patrolmen will be the "curb service" guides to help the children at street crossings.

These school pupils were named as guides: Jean Smith, Nancy Bushman, Meredith Derck, Mary Wagner, Jane Sanders, Gloria Klunk, Florence Redding, Dolores Hardman, Helen Martin, Jay Arneson, Edward Null, Richard Shealer, Watson Wood, Robert Sanders, George Staley.

Name Patrolmen

The following are patrolmen: Earl Hoffman, Edward Roth, David Stanton, Fred Gormley, John Hertz, Paul Ketterman, Martha Heim, Norrie Minter, Peter Baumann, Rodger Elliot, John Hartley, Donald Burke, Sue Schmitt, Dwight Putman, Bill Williams, Caroline Fulton, Martha Sikes, Ann Cullison, Marlin Pissel John Thomas, Rosa Marie Redding, Walter Rentzel, John Little, Wilbur Small, Albert Mumper, Curtis Fissel, Charles Small, William Bream, John Staub, Kenneth Kuhn, Wayne Tonsel, Arthur Buehler, Rainger Buehler, Patrick Wilkinson.

LIBRARY OPENS '47 MEMBERSHIP DRIVE MONDAY

Pointing out that the chief need of the Adams County Free Library now is "more money for more books," the library on Monday launched its campaign for new and renewal memberships in the association.

On Monday, letters signed by O. H. Benson, president of the library association, were mailed to the organization's 3,140 charter members asking that they renew their memberships by forwarding fees and help enroll new members. The letters went to all who had subscribed individual or group memberships in the association.

The membership fees secured in the campaign before the library was opened last January furnished approximately one-third of the funds with which the library had been operated to date, according to a statement included in the Benson letter. Charter membership fees totaled $3,700. There was a $3,500 county appropriation to which the state added $2,500. The Gettysburg borough council gave $500 and contributions from many county school districts added another $500. Other special gifts totaled $600.

36,000 Book Loans
The library, after less than 10 months of operation, has made more than 36,000 book loans, 60 per cent of which were through the medium of the bookmobile. The library now has 8,000 books of its own and has 3,000 additional volumes on loan from the state library at Harrisburg.

Besides the main library at 135 Carlisle street, the library serves 93 schools in every corner of the county, three branch libraries and 11 adult deposit stations. Many other book stations are "in process of formation and will soon be in operation" to make the library service more accessible to countians, the letter states.

A fourth branch of the county library soon will be opened in Littlestown.

Speeding Trucker Advances $10 Fine

State Policeman Frank Yercavage has met the world's best customer for a state police traffic violation ticket.

Clay Stanley, West Chester truck driver, was arrested for speeding with a truck. Officer Yercavage stopped the truck, explained to Stanley that he was going too fast, said that the charge would be laid before Justice of the Peace William Dentler at Cashtown and told Stanley that a notice would be forthcoming.

Yercavage then went on his patrol and Monday evening made up the information. Tuesday when he went to lay the information before the justice he found that Stanley had been even more prompt than necessary. The West Chester man had already gone to the justice, told him about the case of which he up to then knew nothing and paid the fine of $10 and costs.

$625 Damage When Two Cars Sideswipe

Damage totaling about $625 resulted when two cars sideswiped about 350 feet north of the square in Biglerville Monday evening at 6:10 o'clock but the occupants of the machines escaped injury. State police here are continuing their investigation of the mishap.

A sedan being driven south by Curtis W. Harner, 67, Cemetery street, Littlestown, sideswiped with a coupe being driven north by H. S. Beamer, 69, Biglerville R. D. After the collision both cars ran off the highway, the Harner car mounting a curb and a five-foot bank.

Beamer's damage was estimated at $450 and Harner's at $175.

HALLOWEEN PARADE PLANS COMPLETE HERE

Final arrangements for the Halloween parade were being completed today with members of the committee making last-minute preparations for the evening of fun and frolic to be held here Wednesday from 7 o'clock until about 10.

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster reminded motorists that there will be no parking along the route of the parade on Wednesday night, with the motorists along Chambersburg street, the first block of York street, North Stratton street, East Middle street and Baltimore street, as well as on the square, asked to remove their cars before 7 o'clock until after the parade.

Blue and Gray Band Chairman William I. Shields urged members of the band to be at the fire engine house at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday night to take part in the parade. He urged all members to wear costumes in keeping with the Halloween spirit or, lacking such outfits, to wear their regular band uniforms.

Firemen To Help

Fire Chief James A. Aumen announced that Gene Sikes, Herbert McKenrick, Maurice Shindedecker, Alvin Bupp, Carl Oyler and Ivan Breighner will be the fire company members acting as assistant marshals for the parade. The assistant marshals will meet at the Meade school where the parade will form at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Firemen who will act as special police will report at the same time to Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster at the borough police office in the Murphy building to begin their duties.

The firemen to act as policemen are William Gilbert, Raymond Blasing, George Burnger, Paul Anzenberger, George Bushman, Gilbert McKendrick and Donald Myers.

To Judge "Soap" Entries

This evening at 7 o'clock the members of the window soaping judging committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce office to pick the ten best entries in the contest.

Members of the committee hope that hundreds of countians will participate in the parade at which prizes totalling $241 will be distributed. Chairman Paul Miller said today. A number of organizations are planning to participate as well as individuals, he added. So far three bands are scheduled to be on hand for the occasion.

The prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the parade when the marchers will pass before a judges' stand on the southwestern portion of the square.

Events After Parade

There the judges will pick out the winners of organizational, vehicular, and float prizes while six assistant judges from the VFW will select the individuals most likely (Please Turn to Page 4)

LEGION WOMEN HOLD MEETING; ENJOY PARTY

Committee appointments were made and plans were advanced for a rummage sale at a regular meeting of the Auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion Monday evening. A Halloween party preceded the business session.

Thirty-five members attended with the vice president, Mrs. Erle R. Deardorff, opening the meeting and the president, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, presiding at the business session.

The women decided to conduct a rummage sale Saturday in the Legion building with this committee in charge: Mrs. Erle Deardorff, Mrs. James Howe, Mrs. Emma Mundorff, Mrs. Frank Deardorff and Mrs. Charles Trostle.

It was announced the local Auxiliary will be represented at the presidents' and secretaries' conference at Harrisburg, November 8.

Name Committees

The membership committee for the current year was appointed as follows: Mrs. Paul Spangler, chairman; Miss Mary Grove, Mrs. William Shover, Mrs. Henry Dickert, Mrs. Harry Lower, Mrs. Fred P. (Please Turn to Page 2)

Two Drivers Are Charged By Police

Earl W. Dowd, Mt. Holly Springs, has been charged before Justice H. E. Fissel, Bolling Springs, by a member of the local state police detail with failing to obey a railroad crossing signal in Mt. Holly Springs.

Ross E. Beger, Lebanon, has been charged before Justice of the Peace William Dentler, Cashtown, with passing in a no passing zone by state police.

For A Bigger And Better

GETTYSBURG

This is the sixth in a series of nine articles by nine representative citizens of Gettysburg on what, in their estimation, are the three most important community projects for Gettysburg.

By Mrs. ELSIE S. LEWARS

Internationally Known Authors

The popularity of the Adams County Free Library is an indication of the hunger of our people, both old and young, for books. In the long run, for the future as well as the present, the extension of library facilities is most important. First, a room should be provided with low tables and small chairs for small children. Second, another assistant should be employed, on part-time, so that our reading-room may be used on six evenings in the week instead of two.

On our streets, especially in the evenings, are scores of young people longing for "something to do" and finding entertainment unprofitable to themselves and menacing to their own safety and that of others. Many of these boys and girls are ambitious, some of them, through school, would like to develop latent talents.

Woodcarving, drawing, Boy and Girl Scout activities, the study of birds and plants, the care of domestic animals, the making of miniature railroads and trains and airplanes, in which our boys are now interested, radio, radar, there is no hobby which a library does not foster.

Eliminate Mosquitoes

The books which may be had are not only those in sight on the shelves, they are literally almost all books, anywhere, except those with an enormous value because of binding or rarity.

Our future depends upon our children—we cannot give them a greater treasure than a wide choice of good books. Youth cannot foresee the long years ahead when dancing days are past—reading habits fostered by a good library will make those years interesting and happy.

The physical well-being of our town has one fierce and implacable enemy—the mosquito. If our determination to destroy him equalled his to torture us, we should soon be rid of him. His elimination and the providing of a well-kept comfort-station have been subjects of public and private discussion for about half a century—these are probably the most obvious and essential improvements which should engage our attention.

Center Plot Improvement

The third improvement should need no "drive." The object first seen and oftenest commented upon by visitors is the plot in the center of the square. Surely, now that the war is over, man-power can be had for weeding and money for replacing fine shrubbery, dead because of neglect!

Let us give our children more books, and a larger room and more hours in which to read them. Let us solve soon and forever the most pressing problems—the mosquito and a comfort station. First of all, quickly, let us put our front yard in order.

ROTARIANS HEAR FEARS UNWISE OF WORK AMONG CRIPPLED TOTS USE OF EPITHET 'COMMUNISTIC'

The work of the State Crippled Children's society was outlined Monday evening for the local Rotary club at its regular meeting in the YWCA by George Reimer, executive secretary of the state organization.

Founded in 1923 by Rotary clubs in the state, the state crippled children's society is planning to extend its services by legally adding the words "and adults" to its name so that it can supply its services to handicapped persons whether children or grown-ups, Reimer declared. One-tenth of the crippled children in the country are living in Pennsylvania, the state official said.

No Duplication
"The handicapped person should not be denied his rightful place in society," Reimer stated, "the most tragic lot in life is not to be crippled, but to be considered useless."

The Pennsylvania Crippled Children's society, made up of 42 county societies, such as the one here in Adams county, is a private group which works "hand in hand" with other groups such as the Infantile Paralysis organization to aid crippled children, Reimer added, "there (Please Turn to Page 2)

Stalin Says Russia Has No Atomic Bomb

Moscow, Oct. 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin declared in a statement made public today that the Soviet Union has no atomic bomb or any thing like it, and urged "rigid international control" of atomic energy.

The Soviet leader, replying to 31 questions submitted to him by Hugh Baillie, President of the United Press, said Russia's troop strength in the occupied countries of Eastern Europe totaled 60 divisions, and would be reduced within two months to 40.

Stalin expressed opinions on a broad range of subjects, covering almost every paramount international issue. His replies were broadcast this morning over the Moscow radio.

Asked what should be done if the threat of a new war should arise, the Russian leader said its "instigators" should be curbed, and he accused Winston Churchill, Britain's war-time Prime Minister, of being among such instigators. He said, however, that he did not agree

CONCERT GROUP MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN OPENS

The Gettysburg Concert Association's seventh membership campaign got off to an auspicious start Monday evening when more than fifty workers attended the annual dinner-meeting at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 p. m.

This morning the workers started their canvass of the town and county to enroll at least 650 members in the association this year for the three concerts which will be presented here this winter.

Mrs. Guyon Buehler, president, presided. She presented the officers of the Association: Mrs. Frank Kramer and Parker Wagnild, vice-presidents; Mrs. C. A. Sloat, secretary and Dr. Fred Tilberg, treasurer.

The following directors were introduced: Miss Anna Cairns, Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, Mrs. S. P. Snyder, Mrs. George F. Eberhart, Rev. J. W. Geigley, Charles Yost, Kenneth Alwine, Miss Catherine Knouse, Miss Louise Sebold, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf and Mrs. Arlene Winger.

There were additional representatives of the college, seminary, Rotary, Lions, Sororities and Woman's clubs.

Sings Two Solos

A highlight of the evening was the rendition of two solos by Mrs. Robert H. Derck, newly elected chairman of the membership committee, who sang: Sigmund Romberg's "Romance" from "The Desert Song" and "The Bell Song" from "Lakme," by Delibes.

Dean W. E. Tilberg of the college complimented the Association on its successful efforts in bringing "fine music to the community" and inspiring a higher appreciation in good music. He said that the Association was making a valuable contribution to the community in fostering the "fine programs which have been presented in the past and which they will continue in the future."

Albert Robinson, representing the Columbia Concerts Association, gave a brief resume of the Association's work, its expansion program and brief background sketches of a number of artists now with the parent organization.

Instruct Workers

He also outlined the instructions to workers. He said there would be no single admissions to any of the concerts; that memberships were for the three concerts and that at the conclusion of the campaign the membership would be closed for the year. He also stated that the Trapp Family Singers were available to Gettysburg if the maximum membership was achieved.

Headquarters of the Association will be maintained in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg throughout the week, with Mrs. Derck in charge, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Saturday until 7:30 p. m.

A prize will be awarded to the worker selling the largest number of memberships.

It was also announced that the three concerts to be presented in Gettysburg this winter will be open to County Farm members.

COUNTY FARM LABOR OFFICE CLOSES NOV. 1

Announcement of the closing of the Adams County Emergency Farm Labor office on November 1, and the resignation of Mrs. Arthur Taylor, secretary in the office of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association was made today by M. T. Hartman, farm agent. Mrs. Taylor's resignation is effective November 1.

On and after November 1 the emergency farm labor office, 111 Baltimore street, will be closed. Mr. Hartman said, and any calls regarding farm labor should be directed to the office of the extension association in the court house. J. B. Collins, farm labor assistant, will continue to complete the work and prepare a report of the year's activities on farm labor, Mr. Hartman said.

Mrs. Taylor, the former Lareda Weaver, began her services as secretary in the joint offices of the county superintendent of schools and the agricultural extension office in June, 1932, the day following her graduation at Gettysburg high school.

PLAN TO MARRY

Marriage license applications have been filed in York by the following couples: Fred M. Applier, Hanover R. 1, and Rita Elizabeth Teal, South street, McSherrytown; Emory Russell Myers, Jr., New Oxford, and Ruth Arlene Saltzberger, Hanover R. 2; Paul Edward Grove, Littlestown R. 2, and Arlene Virginia Bowman, Littlestown R. 1.

Ask Reservations For C. C. Dinner

Members of the Chamber of Commerce were urged today to mail in immediately their reservation cards for the annual membership dinner Thursday night, or telephone the chamber's office in the Kadel building if they plan to attend.

Forty reservations have been received thus far. The chamber must know, President Henry W. Garvin said, how many to plan for at the dinner, which will be held at the Peace Light Inn at 6:30 p. m.

Principal entertainment will be furnished by George Bailey, Freeport, Pa., called the "man with the photographic mind." Three directors are also to be elected.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK FRIDAY AT 'WORLD' SERVICE

The appearance here Friday evening of the Rev. Henry H. Bucher, missionary and teacher in China before he spent three years in a Japanese internment camp, will be combined with Gettysburg's observance of World Community Day under the auspices of the Gettysburg Council of Church Women. The service will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Mr. Bucher, who is being sent here by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., will speak after a special service at which the Kiddies' Kits, being packed here by local church groups under the sponsorship of the Council of Church Women, will be consecrated. The kits are to be taken to the church from 2 to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

There will be special music during the evening service by the choir of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church.

The Rev. Mr. Bucher is a native of New Jersey and a graduate of Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa., and Princeton seminary and has been a missionary of the Presbyterian church since 1934. He taught three years at Bangkok Christian college in Siam before going to China where he served on Hainan island and in Peking. He spent four years in the Philippines, three of them in a Jap internment camp. He was repatriated after his liberation at Manila.

A special invitation has been issued the members of the Lower Marsh Creek and Great Coneywago Presbyterian churches to attend the service which is open to the public.

Girl Scouts Hold Halloween Party

A Halloween masquerade party was held Monday evening by the Caroline Codori Girl Scout troop in the scout rooms of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

Prizes were awarded the following: Margaret Holtz, best disguise; Kay Coleman, first, prettiest costume; Nancy Bushman, second, prettiest costume; Sonia Neary and Theresa Hemler, cleverest costumes, and Jean Smith, funniest costume.

Plans were made to hold a hike in the near future to gather material for indoor gardens.

Refreshments and entertainment were furnished by the first class scouts.

Birth Announcements

State Policeman and Mrs. David James, 359 York street, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital Monday evening.

A daughter was born at the hospital Monday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. John Riley, Littlestown.

C. E. Society Meets

The Christian Endeavor society of St. Paul's Lutheran church discussed "Champion Of The Oppressed" at the weekly meeting Sunday evening. The leaders were Jean Eckard and Doris Conover. The members decided to visit the Seminary chapel, under the direction of Dr. Harvey Hoover, on Sunday, November 3, at 5:45 p. m. Next week's leader will be Albert Stock.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall held a surprise birthday at the VFW hall for their son, Charles, on his eighteenth birthday, October 23. The hall was decorated with orange and black in keeping the Halloween season. Refreshments were served, and Charles received many presents. BIGLERVILLE GIRL SCOUTS AT CEREMONY

Twenty girls between the ages of 10 and 14 were invested into the Biglerville Intermediate Girl Scouts, Troop 1, at a formal ceremony in the Sunday school room of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, Monday evening. The local troop committee, parents, and representatives of the Lions club, were guests.

The girls were in uniform and marched into the candlelit room, decorated with ferns and flowers, singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Standing in a semicircle before the guests, the Girl Scouts led the guests in the Lord's Prayer after which they pledged allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Oscar Rice, Jr., a member of the troop committee, gave a short talk on "The History of Girl Scouts." Mr. Richard Fink, chairman of the troop committee spoke on "The Aims and Objectives of Girl Scouts." Then Mrs. Fink and Mrs. Rice invited the leaders, Miss Lena Boyer and Mrs. Cyrus Bucher. In turn, the leaders invited the 20 recruits. Then the Girl Scouts sang "I Would Be True."

Present Ten Skits

The Girl Scouts wrote and produced dramatizations interpreting the 10 Girl Scout laws. The first law, "A Girl Scout's honor is to be trusted," was written and enacted by Patsey Beal and Shirley Kint; the second, "A Girl Scout is loyal," by Janet Lerew, Julianne Coulson and Barbara Yoder; third, "A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and help others," by Shirley Guise, Mary Heacock and Mary Logan; the fourth, "The Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout," Barbara Lawver, Mary Ellen Crawford and Caroline Dillon; fifth, "A Girl Scout is Courteous," by Louise Nary and Barbara Yoder; sixth, "A Girl Scout Obeys Orders," Dorothy Jane Ehlman and Helen Slaybaugh; eighth, "A Girl Scout is Cheerful," Shirley Lough, Louise Nary and Mary Heacock; ninth, "A Girl Scout is Thrifty," Betty Lawver and Clara Lou Hildebrand; tenth, "A Girl Scout is Clean in thought, word and deed," by Barbara Geiselman and Caroline Dillon.

After the skits the girls formed a semi-circle singing "Marching Along Together." They ended the program by singing "Now the Day is Over" and "Taps."

The guests were asked to remain for refreshments.

Girls serving on organizing committee were Mary Ellen Crawford, Barbara Geiselman, and Barbara Lawver, who also acted as head hostess. Decorating committee was Patsey Phillips, Jean Cleaver, and Louise Nary. Music was in charge of Patsey Phillips and Barbara Yoder.

Officers Are Named

Officers named are as follows: captains, Rose Marie Redding, John Little, Eugene Davis, Joseph Lillen, Stuart McPherson, Richard Munsour, and Curvin Krout; lieutenants, Walter Rentzel, Carl Sanders, Richard Guise, Allen Jacoby, and Charles Ford.

The patrol, after its safety talk by Chief Harpster, was drilled on the school grounds preparatory to marching in the Halloween parade Wednesday night, and the members were issued white belts, badges and other insignia, furnished by the Keystone Automobile club.

The purpose of the patrol, Chief Harpster said, is to "inculcate habits of safety in the school children, to train them to assist other children in obeying safety regulations and to teach them a sense of responsibility and familiarity with their government."

It is planned to have regular meetings every Saturday morning in the auditorium at Lincoln school at 9 a. m. and to hold safety courts, with a judge, prosecuting attorney, and other court officers chosen from among the children.

Take Safety Pledge

The members of the safety patrol take the following pledge: "I will obey all safety rules and encourage others to do the same. I will work earnestly to safeguard the lives of everyone in our school. I will be prompt and obedient at all times. I will be loyal to my school, my home and community."

The patrols will protect other children while crossing the streets near the schools and report to their captains any violations. The safety guides will protect pupils from accidental injuries inside the school buildings and on the school grounds. They will request other pupils to refrain from running up and down stairs. They will inspect fire doors and other exits, supervise the use of lavatories to encourage cleanliness, and remove broken glass from playgrounds, protect and aid smaller children, supervise drinking fountains, etc.

Chief Harpster, in appealing for cooperation from parents, said today he had already received numerous telephone calls pledging support to his program.

The oldest existing printed book is a Buddhist sacred text dated 868 A.D.

'BOOKMOBILE' FOR HOSPITAL

The possibility of securing a "bookmobile" to take books around to patients in the rooms and wards of the Warner hospital was discussed Monday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Under the plan suggested the auxiliary would purchase a movable cart on which the books could be placed on shelves. Arrangements would be worked out with the county library to bring the books to the hospital at intervals and then the cart would be taken to the various rooms and books distributed. Meantime there would be exchanges of the books by the hospital "bookmobile" several times a week among the patients.

The board voted to purchase 60 blankets to be used on the wards and on the sun porch and purchased four chairs and a floor lamp for use in various rooms.

The board also decided to purchase the turkeys for Christmas and Thanksgiving when the fowls will be main course at dinner. The annual food drive will be held the week of November 11, the board announced.

FARM GROUP

man, welcomed the representatives to Gettysburg and Adams county at this morning's session.

Fourfold Task

Clyde A. Zehner, Harrisburg, director of the State Production and Marketing Administration told the farmers they "can look for another year of top production in 1947."

The production job faced by farmers next year is "fourfold," Zehner declared. "First, is to meet the needs of a strong domestic demand; second is the necessity of building up some reserves of commodities that were depleted during the war and at the same time adjusting downward production of some commodities in line with peace-time demands; third, is to supply some of the food and other farm products still needed in war devastated countries; fourth, is to renew our efforts toward a sound farm program of proper land use and soil conservation."

Production goals for 1946 were met or exceeded in seven of the 12 commodities for which specific goals were set, Zehner said. Results for the year included, turkeys, 105 per cent; poultry, 104 per cent; hogs, 102 per cent; milk and dairy cows, 102 per cent; and oats, 100 per cent.

Four were within six per cent of the suggested goals with corn showing 98 per cent; hay, 98 per cent; tobacco, 97 per cent; and wheat, 96 per cent. The four goals which were missed by the widest margin were potatoes, 92 per cent; sheep, 90 per cent; barley, 77 per cent, and soybeans, 66 per cent.

PMA's Big Job

Big job of the PMA this year is to prevent a repetition of the decline in farm product prices after World War I, Zehner declared.

Only the Steagall bill which provided price support prevented great loss in potatoes this year, Zehner pointed out. While Pennsylvania's goal was not reached and while Pennsylvania does not raise enough potatoes to fill its own demands the nation as a whole turned up with the biggest yield of potatoes, 471,000,000 bushels, in history.

Despite the fact that the government had to purchase 33,000,000 bushels of surplus potatoes to support the early commercial and intermediate market the government made out all right financially, Zehner pointed out. The growers received $1.85 per hundred weight for the potatoes. The distillers bought the potatoes at a much lower price than that but on each gallon of alcohol made from each hundred-weight of potatoes the government received $9 in taxes, thus making the transaction very profitable to the government, Zehner added.

Doubtful Future

"However to expect the same thing to be possible next year would be wishful thinking when we know that grain supplies are becoming more plentiful," Zehner added.

He also pointed out that "While Congress agreed to support the potato price at 90 per cent of parity it is doubtful if it will continue to appropriate funds for supporting markets when growers continue to increase their planted acreage, and produce more than the public can ever hope to consume."

Name Secretaries

With Clarence Kulp, chief of field division of the state Production and Marketing administration, Harrisburg, in charge, field men of the administration met Monday at the local Agriculture Conservation committee offices to plan for the two-day meeting of the State Production and Marketing committee being held here today and Wednesday.

The ten field men were named as secretaries of the various committees studying the 1947 farm production outlook, who expect to fix the goals for the coming year before the conclusion of the two-day session here.

Donald C. Tyson, Gardners, who is field man for district No. 8 which includes Dauphin, Juniata, Lebanon, Mifflin, Perry, Schuylkill and Snyder counties, was named secretary of the fruit and vegetables committee.

ARMY REMAINS LEADING TEAM; PENN IS THIRD

By BOB GRUBB

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—The top trio among the country's football powerhouses — Army, Notre Dame and Penn—today headed in that order into the last half of the race to decide the 1946 national championship.

Army, salting away victory No. 24 with its 19-0 victory over Duke, had no trouble staying at the top in the Associated Press' weekly poll of the nation's sports writers, while Notre Dame enhanced its second-place standing with a 41-6 romp over Iowa.

With Texas and Tennessee dumped from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied, Penn's 32-19 verdict over Navy moved the Quakers from sixth place into third. Another shift jumped the University of California at Los Angeles, Pacific coast pace-setter, from fifth to fourth.

Easy Week Ahead

Penn, like Army and Notre Dame, has an easy week ahead, meeting Princeton while the Cadets ease off with West Virginia and the Irish meet Navy. And Columbia, Penn's next opponent, should do nothing to mar the Quaker's unbeaten record going into their November 16 clash with Army.

Of the 172 series casting ballots in this fourth weekly poll, 104 put Army at the head of the list. Sixty-one—40 more than last week—favored Notre Dame as the No. 1 team. The other seven first-place ballots were split among Penn, with four, and UCLA, Georgia and Harvard, with one apiece.

Standing of the top ten teams (first place votes in parenthesis; points based on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 system):

Team	Points
1—Army (104)	1,647
2—Notre Dame (61)	1,578
3—Pennsylvania (4)	1,100
4—UCLA (1)	1,018
5—Georgia (1)	935
6—Northwestern	659
7—Texas	500 4-5
8—Rice	465 4-5
9—North Carolina	281
10—Tennessee	191

The second ten: 11—Illinois, 126; 12—Wake Forest, 101 4-5; 13—Michigan, 90 4-5; 14—Oklahoma, 85 4-5; 15—Alabama, 83 4-5; 16—Georgia Tech, 79 4-5; 17—Harvard (one first place vote), 66; 18—Wisconsin, 60; 19—Duke, 40; 20—Indiana, 34.

The records of the Plymouth colony show that ten barrels of cranberries were sent as a gift to Charles II of England.

Pitt To Play Six Of Big Nine Teams

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29 (AP)—Two additional Big Nine teams have been put on the 1947 Pitt schedule, adding fuel to the long-time rumor that the Panthers might be voted into the Western conference.

Michigan and Minnesota, newest conference rivals, replace Temple and Marquette on the schedule. Six of Pitt's nine games will be against members of the Big Nine.

Pitt has not won a game from the Western conference since it installed its "de-emphasis" program in 1939. The losing streak reached 19 straight with Saturday's defeat by Purdue.

The 1947 schedule: September 27, Illinois, away; October 4, Notre Dame; October 11, Michigan, away; October 18, Indiana, away; October 25, Ohio State; November 1, Minnesota, away; November 15, Purdue, away; November 22, Penn State; November 29, West Virginia.

BARLOW OUT OF CAGE CIRCUIT

Due to a lack of players Barlow announced it would drop from the Adams County Independent Basketball league at a meeting of league officials Monday evening at the fire engine house. Chester Shriver, Barlow, will continue as the loop president. Dick Hess is the secretary-treasurer.

A decision was reached whereby no college players will be permitted on team rosters.

It was decided that rosters must be completed, forfeit money posted and referees appointed by November 12.

Although at the second meeting of the organization it had been decided to have not more than eight teams in the newly-formed league it appeared following Monday's meeting that 10 teams may be permitted to join. That will be determined in the near future.

Members of the loop at present include Fairfield, Biglerville, Sepia Stars, Greenmount, Gettysburg Redbirds, Gettysburg Commuters, Gettysburg American Legion and Arendtsville.

The next meeting will be held Monday, November 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the fire engine house. Each team will be permitted to have but one representative present.

MAROON SCRUBS FACE CARLISLE

The Gettysburg high school reserve football team reaches the midpoint on its five-game schedule Thursday evening when the Carlisle high junior varsity will be played on the local field at 7 o'clock.

If the game proves enough of a drawing card it is probable the games with Hanover Junior high on November 7 and with the Hanover high jayvees on November 14 will also be played as night games.

Couch Fred Haehlen's lads have divided two previous games. The Maroons lost a 24-13 decision to Delone and last week blanked Biglerville 25-0.

Carlisle is reported to have an unusually strong reserve team and should prove a real test for the locals.

Sports Roundup

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—If you've wondered why Alabama's Rose Bowl team lost that game to Tennessee and hasn't rolled up any big scores against its own major rivals, the word from Tuscaloosa is "we're still using a 1945 team in a 1946 league."

Ten of the Bama Rose Bowl starters still are on the first team while not many of last year's regulars can make the grade at other schools.

Play of the week is credited to the Philly Eagles' Greasy Neale when he switched from the "T" formation to the single wing and the Eagles rolled up 28 points against Washington in the last half. . . . The Idaho Southern university football stadium has been renamed the "Spud Bowl." No doubt that's where the opposition will get mashed.

BISONS DRILL ON PLAYS OF BULLET ELEVEN

Lewisburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—Although pleased with Bucknell's Centennial Homecoming victory over the Lafayette Leopards, Coach Al Humphreys did not declare a holiday for his players Monday, but instead began to groom his squad for the tilt with Gettysburg here Saturday.

He did excuse the first 15 men from heavy duty, but they were on hand in uniform to watch the varsity members in a scrimmage session with the junior varsity squad, which employed Gettysburg plays.

The Bisons will be entering the fray Saturday with a decisive edge in the victory column, having won three of every four games played against their intra-state opponent since the rivalry was touched off in 1893. However, since 1938, each team has been victorious during alternating years. Because the Bisons triumphed in 1942—Gettysburg's only war-time season—the Bisons are due for their eighth victory over the Herdmen.

Two Deadlocks Bucknell, on the other hand, will be gunning for its 22nd win against the Battlefields. Two of the contests during the 30-game series have ended in deadlocks.

The two teams will be entering the game with identical records, two wins against three setbacks. The Bisons scored victories over Buffalo and Lafayette, while dropping contests to Cornell, Penn State and Muhlenberg. The Bulls recorded wins over Lehigh and Lafayette, and lost to Delaware, Maryland, and New York university.

Both coaches are expecting a battle, because man for man, the two elevens are as evenly matched as identical twins.

Picks Miami Kicker As One Of The Best

Villanova, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP)—Jerry Neri, Villanova college's chief scout, said today the University of Miami, has one of the best kickers in the country.

Neri, who scouted Miami's team last week-end in preparation for the Villanova-University of Miami game Friday night at Shibe Park said:

"You may think you've seen good kickers, but when Harry Ghau boots 'em, they really go the distance. He's undoubtedly one of the best kickers in the nation."

OPPOSE USE OF COLORED STARS

Reno, Nev., Oct. 29 (AP)—The old southern custom of drawing the color line on the football field today endangered the November 16 game between Nevada and Mississippi State at State College, Miss.

Graduate Manager Joseph T. McDonnell of the University of Nevada football team revealed that athletic officials of the southern school had written Nevada Coach James Aiken that the appearance in the lineup of his two star negro players would cause "an unfortunate commotion."

The contract between the schools calls for a $3,000 forfeit to be paid by the school cancelling the game. As a result both sides were cagey, with Mississippi State Coach Allyn McKeen flatly saying he had no comment on the situation.

The Nevada negro players, William Bass, 24, of Monongahela, Pa. and Horace Gillom, 25, of Massillon, Ohio, have been mainstays of the Wolfpack all season. Gillom has averaged 51 yards on his punts and Bass, main Wolf ground gainer, has converted 11 out of 15 tries from placement.

Nevada students stewed over the situation with fraternities openly taking the side of the negroes.

DAVIS BIGGEST YARDAGE GAINER

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Glenn Davis, army's all-American halfback, not only is the biggest yardage gainer, but is also the hardest working back in the east.

Figures today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Davis has taken part in 102 plays and has gained 718 yards, far more than any rivals. Of these, 74 were rushing plays which resulted in 468 yards gained by the California comet.

Runner-up to Davis in yardage is Joe Rogers of Villanova, who took part in 74 plays good for 550 yards. But Rogers leads Davis in yardage gained via rushing—with 510 yards on 66 plunges.

Completes Most Passes

John McCrane, King's Point academy quarterback, has completed the most passes; 33 in 101 attempts, for 404 yards. Carl Leibert of Princeton however, has accounted for the most yardage via passes, 464 in 21 completions of 51 attempts.

Jack Roderick, sure-fingered Yale end, has caught the most passes, 16 for 241 yards gained. Only four others have caught as many as 10 passes.

In the east only two players with 15 or more punts to their credit have averaged 40 yards or better. These are Charlie Loianco of Lafayette with a 42.9 average on 21 punts, and Tom Capozzoli, NYU, with a 41-yard average on the same number of punts.

Zack Taylor New Coach Of Pirates

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29 (AP)—Manager Billy Herman of the Pittsburgh Pirates today named Zack Taylor, veteran catcher and coach, to his 1947 coaching staff.

Taylor, who served as St. Louis Browns coach for the past five years, replaces Del Bissonette who was given his unconditional release. The Browns gave Taylor permission to take the Pirate job.

Taylor, 48, broke into the majors

Today's Talk

FOOTHOLDS
There is permanence to nothing but truth, which is eternal. Footholds are transitory things. There is continual movement in all Nature. Never does it remain the same. Changes are forever at work. Said Montaigne: "If my mind could find a foothold, I should no longer experiment: I would conclude."

None of us really finishes anything. We are cogs in a great machine which we call life. We take up tasks in association with others. We only own our homes for a little while, and then pass them on to others to reconstruct, or tear down. We have no earthly permanent foothold anywhere. We are scholars in a great school called life. In the spiritual world alone can we have an ever-abiding foothold.

We can have temporary footholds in ideas. Not for long, however, for ideas change, and we change with them. But ideas have wings with which to fly. We are forever plucking after them. The air is full of them!

We can take to, and hold fast to, footholds upon those eternal verities that spell out a noble and rock-held character. You can't get too strong a foothold upon honesty, sincerity, faith, God, or the idealism which shapes our way of life and determines our happiness and worth in the world. These are things to which we should forever cling with great tenacity.

Personal fortunes often melt away from us, through little or no fault of ours. We have a foothold upon possessions for but a brief term. When we think we have much, we often discover we have little. But anyone can get a foothold upon beauty, and hold it to the very end of life—and perhaps beyond!

I recall this line from the New Testament: "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." And that means to hold fast to the faith that is within one, to hold fast to the truths of Nature that teach us so much, and waver not in the face of fear or peril, for an eternal destiny awaits all who are faithful and honestly perform.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Frontiers of Life"

SUPPOSE
Suppose as you were starting out Her mother said to you:
"While you are roaming round about
One thing you mustn't do.
You mustn't pause at candy shops
Along the thoroughfare
Or step inside for lollipops,
However tempted there."

Suppose while strolling hand in hand
She begged of you to stop
As if the artful trick she'd planned,
Before a candy shop.
Would you her mother stern obey
And practice self-control?
Could money in your pocket stay
Or would it burn a hole?

Could you, as one with judgment wise,
Let such a chance be missed;
The yearning in those lovely eyes,
That watering mouth resist?
And could you keep secure the dime
That so much joy could buy,
Or would you prove at such a time
To be as weak as I?

GUFFEY SAYS
MONT ALTO IS
'HALF EMPTY'

(By The Associated Press)
The State's Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Mt. Alto, Franklin county, "is only half full" although there are "thousands of tuberculosis patients dying in Pennsylvania," U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey said today.

"The horrors of Pennsylvania's mental institutions under Governor Martin's administration have been so notorious that they have distracted public attention from the fact that similar breakdowns are occurring in almost every department of his administration," Guffey said in a statement.

Guffey, who is seeking re-election for a third term against Martin, asserted two-and one-half floors at the Mt. Alto hospital are not being used "although fully equipped." And that "there are at least 250 vacancies in the cottages."

"The reason isn't lack of facilities; it's lack of help," he stated, adding "Governor Martin could get all the help he wants if he would pay decent wages, but he won't. Patients themselves have to do most of the work."

Supported Wagner Act
At Pottsville last night Guffey declared that "one look at my voting record will tell why they're spending a fortune to lick Joe Guffey." He declared at a Political rally that "the very fact that the campaign against me has been so bitter, x x x is proof that I stand in the way of repeal of the Roosevelt program."

"They don't put it that way," added Guffey, "but they are determined to wipe out the gains of the Roosevelt years, and return to the old days of Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover."

John S. Rice, Democratic candidate for governor, speaking at the same political rally, said "I supported, worked for, spoke for and voted for the Wagner Act. In the eyes of the Republican leadership that law, x x x is the greatest obstacle to their efforts to exploit labor."

FARMS LEAVING FEW FOR DRAFT
By JOE REICHLER
New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—It is becoming more apparent each year that baseball's annual selection, more popularly known among the fans as the draft, is dying a slow death due to the growth of the farm system.

With the chain system now in vogue, nearly all of the good prospects in the minors belong to major league teams, and usually they are drafted. Before the season's close, the parent clubs "purchase" the contracts of their minor league hirings, and of course when the annual draft meeting is held most of the players left for selection are those least in demand.

Few Likely Prospects
In the lengthy list recently submitted to big league club owners by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, there are some 3,000 eligibles for the Friday, November 1, draft selection—largest in years—but it is difficult even for experienced judges of talent to find half a dozen likely prospects.

The list includes LeRoy Parmelee, John Hutchings, Johnny Riddle, Hugh Poland, Bud Metheny, Fred Frankhouse, Tom Sunkel, Pete Gray, Mike Garbark, Luke Hamlin, Jimmy Eucher, Alex Kampouris and Ray Harrell, Cy Buker, Chet Kehn, Don Lund, Les Burge, Garland Lawing, Bob Wilkins, Steve Peek and Johnny Moore.

Some Won't Bid
Some of the more opulent clubs have declined to bid for any players. Last year 10 players were chosen. Of these only two, Gene Handley of the Philadelphia Athletics and Mike Budnick of the New York Giants, lasted out the season.

In 1945, 21 players were selected and all were returned to the minors, although three, Vance Dinges, LeRoy Jarvis and Howard Moss, returned for another arial. That is in sharp contrast to other years when such draft gems as Grover (Pete) Alexander, Hack Wilson, Lefty O'Doul, Pinky Whitney, Curt and Virgil Davis, Red Lucas, Sam Gray, Hal Carlson and others were plucked from obscurity.

Held For Assault On Paralyzed Vet

Clementon, N. J., Oct. 29 (AP)—A Clementon policeman who served as a member of the borough council was held without bail today for the Camden county grand jury on a charge of atrocious assault and battery on a partially paralyzed war veteran.

The policeman, Donato Aceto, 51, pleaded "guilty in the performance of duty" when arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Frederick W. Kenworthy.

The veteran, Joseph J. Valenti, 22, of Atco, N. J., testified Aceto "knew me and my condition." Valenti said he was shot in the brain by a sniper in France in November, 1944, was unconscious 33 days and spent 18 months in army hospitals. He said the wound partially paralyzed his right side, causing him to walk with difficulty.

Valenti said he was backing his automobile out of a driveway Sunday when the policeman ordered Valenti from the car. As he got out, Valenti said he was struck in the forehead with a club and knocked unconscious several minutes.

STRIKES, HIGH PRICES SEEN
AS AIDING GOP

(Editor's note: This is one of a series of reports by Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer, on conditions in states with major election campaigns).

By JACK BELL
(AP Political Reporter)
Philadelphia, Oct. 29 (AP)—Republicans looked today on strike-plagued Pennsylvania as a happy hunting ground for what they say might be the GOP's biggest demonstration of power November 5. Democrats counted on a last-minute shift to elect Senate, House and governor candidates.

Wearied by steel, coal, manufacturing, power, hotel and even beer strikes, Pennsylvanians appeared to be preparing to translate into action at the polls a week from today some of the dissatisfaction they seemed to have with the way things have been going in general.

Gov. Edward Martin and Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor interpreted this in terms of what Taylor called a "sweeping" victory for the Republican ticket with the GOP holding its governorship, ousting Senator Guffey (D.) and picking up from five to eight House seats from the Democrats. Any such outcome probably would represent the Republicans' largest gains in any one state.

Claims 275,000 Margin
Governor Martin put the Republican claims into more specific terms. He said the whole ticket would win by a margin of 275,000 votes.

But Guffey, meeting Martin's challenge for his seat, and J. Warren Mickle, state Democratic chairman, saw it in different light.

Guffey told this reporter he thinks there has been a "definite turn" in sentiment among the prospective voters in the last few days from what he and other Democrats generally had recognized earlier as a national tide running against the "ins."

"We've got a good chance to win this election," said Guffey, who has become the focal point of a Republican drive aimed at discrediting the national administration's handling of the problems of reconversion.

Democratic campaign workers generally contended that they were making inroads in attacks on Martin's record as governor.

Taylor insisted, however, that Guffey and his record of unwavering support for Roosevelt and Truman administrations is the principal issue of the campaign.

Guffey retorted that he is proud to be known as the No. 1 Roosevelt supporter in Pennsylvania. He has been attempting to cast his campaign along that line, with little mention of President Truman, the battle over OPA controls or the foreign policy controversy engendered by the New York speech of Henry A. Wallace, former Secretary of Commerce.

Buyers' Strike
The state's rash of strikes spilled over into the political arena recently when AFL Teamster leaders called on their members to support the Republican ticket in the controversy with the CIO Brewery workers. The Democrats have a CIO endorsement but the AFL State Federation declined to choose between the parties.

Even more potent politically may be what a Philadelphia Evening Bulletin poll indicates today is a buyers' strike in which people with money in their pockets are refusing to purchase available commodities because of high prices.

The poll showed three out of four persons are hesitating to buy clothing and shoes because of price demands, with other high priced items such as butter and meat meeting sales resistance.

Paul Trescott of the Bulletin's editorial staff, who analyzes poll results, said it is his assumption that this new development will be reflected in increased determination of voters to go to the polls. Democrats and Republicans disagree as to which party a heavy vote will benefit.

enclosed in the letters offer life memberships at $25; organization or group memberships at $5; individual adult memberships at $1 and junior memberships for persons under 18 years of age at 50 cents.

"Memorial" Memberships
The library also recently received a $25 "memorial" membership and expects that other countians may also wish to make that type of donation.

Library membership campaign plans include a door-to-door canvass for new members after the re-enrollment of the charter members.

School children throughout the county are being offered membership in a special Library club in return for contributions toward the cost of "Redwing," the library bookmobile. Special certificates and a picture of the bookmobile are being awarded to schools which enroll 100 percent in the club. Up to October 1 the bookmobile had traveled 2,100 miles in distributing county library books throughout the county.

The annual meeting of the library association members will be held November 26.

MARK NATIONAL
AIR MAIL WEEK
THROUGHOUT US

The U. S. postoffice is celebrating from October 27 to November 2 something that was undreamed of in the youth of many of the men and women employed by the postal department.

National Airmail Week, set up to promote the use of airmail and to acquaint everybody with the fact that a nickel now has wings and that an airmail letter can be sent for five cents, also celebrates the airline, which was not even in existence 44 years ago.

The first airplane flight was made December 17, 1903 when Orville Wright got the flying kite invented by himself and his brother off the ground and kept it flying for a distance of 120 feet.

Today, as Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler points out, planes are flying 75,745 miles within the U. S. on mail routes and are flying 211,702 miles to carry the mail in foreign mail service.

Idea Dates From 1910
June 14, 1910, the idea that the airplanes might fly mail was first announced by a responsible individual. On that date Representative Sheppard of Texas introduced a bill into congress "for an investigation to determine the practicability and cost of an aeroplane or airship mail route." The proposal met the usual fate of such things—there was no action.

The next year however a couple of aviation fans cooperated with a postmaster at Mineola, N. Y., and a regular air mail service, for a period of one week from September 23 to 30, 1911, was staged between the Mineola post office and the airport there. In the middle of the week the postmaster general himself flew the route and dropped the mail pouch on the postoffice.

Only 26 years elapsed since the first transcontinental airmail route was completed. The first mail to complete the across-the-continent route landed in San Francisco from Reno, Nev. The mail totalled 16,000 letters. They had crossed the continent from New York 22 hours ahead of the fastest train.

That same year the first foreign air mail service from the United States was inaugurated, a trip of 74 miles from Seattle, Wash., to Victoria, B. C. That route was also

Ice Slips Out From Under Price Control

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—OPA skidded ice out from under price control today.

Declaring that the supply is ample to meet all demands, the agency said its action would apply to both natural and manufactured ice, as well as icing services. The industry does an estimated $260,000,000 worth of business a year.

Meanwhile, OPA issued a 127 page directory listing 3,500 commodity groups decontrolled up to October 15. The price of the directory for anyone interested was put at $3 a copy by the government printing office, with a promise that supplements would be issued to keep up with the accelerated decontrol program ordered by President Truman.

The weekly Sunday evening union vesper service was held in Redeemer's Reformed church. The order of service was as follows: invocation, Rev. C. B. Rebert; scripture and prayer, Rev. Robert H. Sheehan; Reformation sermon, Rev. D. S. Kammerer; explanation of hymns of all churches used, Rev. Frank E. Reynolds; benediction, Rev. Rebert. The choir of Redeemer's church sang Archdelet's anthem, "Hear My Prayer, O Lord."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, Vernon Young, Mrs. Ruth Young, and Donald Young, Boonsboro, Md., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Dutterer and family.

Scouts on Hike
Thirty-two members of the Boy Scout Troop No. 84, accompanied by four troop officials, enjoyed a hike the past week-end over the Appalachian trail. They started at Pine Grove Furnace and stopped at Branchville, above Dillsburg. The distance travelled was 22 miles. They camped overnight at a farmhouse along the trail. Five boys on a hike for the first time sang songs to the group as their initiation. The boys enjoyed songs and stories until taps at 9 p. m. The group hiked in the rain much of the time. One point of interest visited was the midway point between Maine and Georgia. They were transported to and from the trail in automobiles of Rotarians and Lions.

Included in the group were: Alton C. Bowers, scoutmaster; Wilbur E. Mackley, assistant scoutmaster; Edgar A. Wolfe, Lion committeeman; Luther D. Snyder, Rotary committeeman; Carol Reed and James Wehler, junior assistant scoutmasters, William Snyder, Hamilton Walker, Robert Harner, Wilbur Sentz, Richard Boyd, Gene Hankey, Albert Stock, Jack Mackley, William Jacoby, Victor Reynolds, Charles Brown, Everett Feaser, Jerry Walzma, Harry Badders, Charles Badders, Robert Yingling, Wilmer Dutterer, John Bucher, Kenneth Shanesbrook, Kenneth Eyer, Allan Shanesbrook, William Koons, Leroy Bish, Bruce Jones, Richard Jones, Richard Wolf, Francis Gerriek, Glenn Dutters, Kenneth Olinger, and Joel Mummert.

BIDDLE SEEKS SON'S CUSTODY

West Chester, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP)—Alexander W. Biddle, 27-year-old main line socialite and son of the executive vice president of the Philadelphia stock exchange, has taken legal action to recover his eight-month-old son who, he charges "was wrongfully and unlawfully removed from Bryn Mawr hospital to the home" of his wife's parents.

Biddle, through his attorney, petitioned the Chester county court yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus to produce the boy. He said his infant son, Jonathan William, who was born February 17, was taken on May 8 to the East Brandywine township, Pa., home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner O. Simms, "where he is presently situated and where he is being wrongfully withheld from your petitioner."

Hearing Monday
Judge W. Butler Windle set a hearing for Monday on the writ petition.

Young Biddle, who is employed with a public relations firm, could not be reached immediately for comment but his lawyer, Joseph Sharfins, quoted his client as saying the action was taken "in an effort to preserve his home, keep his family together and bring the child back to himself and his wife," the former Elizabeth Onderdonck Simms.

Mrs. Biddle also could not be reached for comment and her mother, Mrs. Simms, told a reporter "I have nothing to say" on the matter.

The Biddles, both 27, were married in 1937 and have three other children.

start the nursing program in at least one third of the county, without the aid of funds from the Tuberculosis and Health association, and if a few more contributions are received the entire program can be started. The $1,000 voted by the tuberculosis society is contingent upon the county-wide program being inaugurated.

Short Of Funds
"If the districts will pay their 20 per cent of the cost of the nursing service, we are pretty close to the place where we can go ahead," Dr. Bream reported. "A few more hundred in contributions and we can cover the entire county, as originally planned."

Dr. Bream said $1,635 was contributed for use of the nursing program "with no strings attached," and that the county could go ahead with at least part of the program. "It looks now as though we might have two, and possibly three nurses," he added.

Cost of the nursing service to the school districts has been placed at 20 per cent of the total cost, or $8 per room. The nursing service will be provided for both public and parochial schools.

The East Berlin-New Oxford area may get the first nurse, because there is no high school nursing service east of Gettysburg at the present time, except at Littlestown and York Springs. Dr. Bream said, using a line drawn north and south through Gettysburg. Included in this area would be these two boroughs, Abbottstown, and Oxford, Conewago, Berwick, Hamilton, and Reading township. Approximately 1,200 pupils would be served. The number of pupils is about the same in the other two areas tentatively set up.

The county board approved the following summaries of enumeration of children: Arendtsville, Fairfield, Hamiltonban, Latimore, Menallen, Oxford, Reading, Straban, Tyrone and York Springs.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown — Miss Dora Nagle, Hanover, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Grace Nagle and other friends and relatives here over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little entertained a number of friends and relatives Wednesday evening in honor of their son, Lee, who observed his seventh birthday.

MARK NATIONAL
AIR MAIL WEEK
THROUGHOUT US

The U. S. postoffice is celebrating from October 27 to November 2 something that was undreamed of in the youth of many of the men and women employed by the postal department.

National Airmail Week, set up to promote the use of airmail and to acquaint everybody with the fact that a nickel now has wings and that an airmail letter can be sent for five cents, also celebrates the airline, which was not even in existence 44 years ago.

The first airplane flight was made December 17, 1903 when Orville Wright got the flying kite invented by himself and his brother off the ground and kept it flying for a distance of 120 feet.

Today, as Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler points out, planes are flying 75,745 miles within the U. S. on mail routes and are flying 211,702 miles to carry the mail in foreign mail service.

Idea Dates From 1910
June 14, 1910, the idea that the airplanes might fly mail was first announced by a responsible individual. On that date Representative Sheppard of Texas introduced a bill into congress "for an investigation to determine the practicability and cost of an aeroplane or airship mail route." The proposal met the usual fate of such things—there was no action.

The next year however a couple of aviation fans cooperated with a postmaster at Mineola, N. Y., and a regular air mail service, for a period of one week from September 23 to 30, 1911, was staged between the Mineola post office and the airport there. In the middle of the week the postmaster general himself flew the route and dropped the mail pouch on the postoffice.

Only 26 years elapsed since the first transcontinental airmail route was completed. The first mail to complete the across-the-continent route landed in San Francisco from Reno, Nev. The mail totalled 16,000 letters. They had crossed the continent from New York 22 hours ahead of the fastest train.

That same year the first foreign air mail service from the United States was inaugurated, a trip of 74 miles from Seattle, Wash., to Victoria, B. C. That route was also

The weekly Sunday evening union vesper service was held in Redeemer's Reformed church. The order of service was as follows: invocation, Rev. C. B. Rebert; scripture and prayer, Rev. Robert H. Sheehan; Reformation sermon, Rev. D. S. Kammerer; explanation of hymns of all churches used, Rev. Frank E. Reynolds; benediction, Rev. Rebert. The choir of Redeemer's church sang Archdelet's anthem, "Hear My Prayer, O Lord."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, Vernon Young, Mrs. Ruth Young, and Donald Young, Boonsboro, Md., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Dutterer and family.

Scouts on Hike
Thirty-two members of the Boy Scout Troop No. 84, accompanied by four troop officials, enjoyed a hike the past week-end over the Appalachian trail. They started at Pine Grove Furnace and stopped at Branchville, above Dillsburg. The distance travelled was 22 miles. They camped overnight at a farmhouse along the trail. Five boys on a hike for the first time sang songs to the group as their initiation. The boys enjoyed songs and stories until taps at 9 p. m. The group hiked in the rain much of the time. One point of interest visited was the midway point between Maine and Georgia. They were transported to and from the trail in automobiles of Rotarians and Lions.

Included in the group were: Alton C. Bowers, scoutmaster; Wilbur E. Mackley, assistant scoutmaster; Edgar A. Wolfe, Lion committeeman; Luther D. Snyder, Rotary committeeman; Carol Reed and James Wehler, junior assistant scoutmasters, William Snyder, Hamilton Walker, Robert Harner, Wilbur Sentz, Richard Boyd, Gene Hankey, Albert Stock, Jack Mackley, William Jacoby, Victor Reynolds, Charles Brown, Everett Feaser, Jerry Walzma, Harry Badders, Charles Badders, Robert Yingling, Wilmer Dutterer, John Bucher, Kenneth Shanesbrook, Kenneth Eyer, Allan Shanesbrook, William Koons, Leroy Bish, Bruce Jones, Richard Jones, Richard Wolf, Francis Gerriek, Glenn Dutters, Kenneth Olinger, and Joel Mummert.

11 FRATS PIN 149 NEOPHYTES; GIRLS SIGN 25

With the return of an extra quota of men to the Gettysburg college campus came the return of an intensified rushing campaign through which the ten national fraternities and one local fraternity have thus far acquired a total of 149 neophytes. According to the rules of the Inter-Fraternity Council, drawn up during the summer session and supplemented by agreement of the Gavel club, date books were used for the first time since the 1942-43 school year.

Phi Sigma Kappa pinned the largest number of men with twenty-five pledges to its credit. Alpha Tau Omega captured second honors with twenty newcomers, while Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon follow closely with 19 and 18 new men respectively. Phi Delta Theta has secured 14 neophytes and Phi Gamma Delta has pinned 13.

Phi Kappa Psi and Tau Kappa Epsilon boast 11 newcomers each. Completing the list are Kappa Delta Rho with eight, Lambda Chi Alpha with five, and Phi Kappa Rho with four pledges.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Pledges to ATO
Those pinned by Alpha Tau Omega are: Richard Allhouse, James Bucher, John Davies, Joseph Erb, Paul Florian, Paul Haller, Richard Koenig, James Long, Theodore Melien, Donald Morris, George Moser, Millard Muntz, William Sykes, Frank Shimer, Eugene Utech, James Abbott, Robert Brooks, Samuel Rockandic, William Hummel, and Harold Zinn.

Sigma Chi Neophytes
The neophytes of Sigma Chi include: Peter Adamson, Paul Blastina, Joseph Daglish, Howard Dutton, Si Eberly, Thomas Gallagher, Richard Hangin, Ted Lenker, William Ramsey, George Sabio, Walter Shippe, Stephen Skidmore, William Snyder, David Woodruff, Earl Beech, Edward Borgh, Nelson Givel, John Morgan, and Leo Patterson.

Pledge to SAE
Added to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon ranks are: Richard Constable, Samuel Detrick, William Eisenhart, Earl Long, Martin Pavelic, Edward Richter, Harry Rote, Ralph Sentz, Alden Snyder, Harvey Taylor, Russell Kerns, Paul Loudenslager, Milton McClain, Charles Miller, Jack Miller, Warner Moore, Richard Bomberger, and William Thomson.

Wearing the pledge pin of Phi Delta Theta are Raymond Kreider, Richard Elting, Warren Gingrich, Richard Heintzelman, Philip Haehnlen, William Joy, Dan Kelly, Beck Markle, Robert Strasser, Donald Sweet, Palmer Watkins, Ernest Johnson, Robert Middleton, Edward Miller and Richard Wienad.

Phi Gamma Delta
Newcomers to Phi Gamma Delta include: William Buehler, James Creighton, David Finney, John Gilligan, Walter Kirker, Bert Larkin, Allison Reese, Ross Sachs, Dudley Tremble, James Way, Robert Welch, John Apple and David Miller.

The Phi Kappa Psi pledges are: William Craighead, Allen Larson, Walter Mountain, Mariet Ness, William Ogden, Joseph Reiley, Don Simonton, John Bair, Richard Covers, John McKay, and Dale Yingst.

TKC Newcomers

Wearing the pin of Kappa Delta Rho are: William Baker, Douglas Cooney, Paul Engle, Charles Hunt, William Kline, Harold Landis, Edward Moul, and Ralph Peery.

Probe New Charge Against Sen. Guffey

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29 (AP)—Stanley Granger, collector of internal revenue for western Pennsylvania, said his office was investigating a complaint made by an individual charging that U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey had failed to report or pay income taxes on his share of income amounting to $3,340,968.46 during the years 1918 to 1922. Guffey issued a statement branding the action "purely a political attack."

Granger said the complaint was made by E. J. Ladley, who identified himself as a former business associate of the Democratic Senator. Guffey is seeking re-election to his third term.

The Federal official said the action was taken under the so-called "informers' act."

Richard Blucher, Dale Cook, Dean McClean, Neiman Craley, and Arthur Kronk.

Fred Schmittner, Elwood Lester, Eugene Villame, and Frederick Villame comprise the newcomers to Phi Kappa Rho.

Others Invited
Margaret Eitchberger will preside over the Phi Mu sorority for the '46-47 year with Vera Venable as vice president, Marilyn Senior as secretary, and Betty Jane Booth as treasurer. Lorraine Diller, Christine Greiman, Dorothy Gilbert, Rosemary Mock, Hannah Robinson, Barbara Wolf, and Barbara Ziebler have accepted the Phi Mu pledge pin.

The formal Chi Alpha Sigma sorority pledge ceremony has been held for Rose Zita Gaines and P. Gertrude White. Newly-elected officers for the Chi Alphas are Ruth E. Slifer, president; Eleanor Sultzbach, vice president; Catherine Tompkins, secretary, and Carol Poidevin, treasurer.

Anne Fellenbaum, Barbara Foulkrod, Jean Livingston, Hazel Trexler and Jacqueline Walters comprise the future members of the Delta Gamma sorority. Peggy Curry, Joanne Tittle, Beatrice Eckman and Ruth Erb will serve as president, vice president, secretary and treasurer respectively for the DG's this year.

About 630,000 one-hundred pound barrels of cranberries worth from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000 are produced annually in the United States.

GUFFEY DIGS UP CRITICISM OF MARTIN RECORD

(By The Associated Press)
U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey revived Democratic criticism over the week-end of a debt settlement made during the depression by Governor Martin, Guffey's Republican opponent.

Guffey said in a statement at Harrisburg that Martin, and Attorney General James H. Duff, GOP candidate for governor, both "got out from under debts by pleading insolvency and settling for a few cents on the dollar."

Martin and Duff both issued replies. The governor said he made "a full and complete answer" to the criticism when it was made four years ago by P. Clair Ross, then Democratic candidate against Martin for governor.

"Voters Answered"
"The citizens of Pennsylvania answered the Democrats in that election," declared Martin.

Guffey said that depositors of two closed banks in Washington, Pa., and a third in Waynesburg, "got only $6.052 in payment of the $48,417 that Martin owed these institutions."

Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.), sent a telegram over the week-end to Guffey in which the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the committee determined that Republican charges linking Guffey with Mexican oil were "not worthy of consideration."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 5 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HUSBAND IS HELD IN BRIDE'S DEATH

State College, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP)—A chemistry student at the Pennsylvania State college was held in the Centre county jail today on a murder charge in the fatal shooting of his bride of a month in their trailer camp home Saturday on the college campus.

Chief of Police John R. Juba identified the youth as John Edward Galloway, Harrisburg, and the victim as Mrs. Catherine Diamond Galloway, 20, formerly of Nanticoke. They were married on September 21 after a college romance.

District Attorney E. L. Willard, of Centre county, planned to confer with Juba on presenting the case to the grand jury, which meets the last week in November.

NEURITUS PAINS LIKE AN ELECTRIC SHOCK
TO A LOCAL WOMAN

Just recently a middle-aged woman of this vicinity told us that she had suffered three years of torture with neuritic pains. She said she felt like a sharp knife was being gouged into her muscles, and sometimes these pains would strike her like an electric shock. She said one could hardly stand it. Today this lady is again enjoying life, and she says the change is due to taking RHU-AID. Her pains are gone now. No more feeling like a knife gouged into her muscles. She is entirely free of her misery, thanks to this remarkable compound.

RHU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medicinal ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Gettysburg.

arrangement on the murder charge, said the former Army Air Force flight engineer told him he pointed a .32 calibre automatic at his wife without realizing what he was doing. The police chief said that Galloway told him Mrs. Galloway was stroking a kitten at the time the shot was fired. The bullet entered her chin, and lodged in her spine. She was dead when the college physician, Dr. H. T. Dale, arrived at the scene.

The student was quoted by Juba as saying that he drank five bottles of beer at a fraternity house with his wife before the shooting.

Crawfordsville, Ind.—A train struck a truck here—and the truck struck back. The train won the decision. Lester Arthur Shelton, 51, was driving the truck when it was hit by a speeding passenger train. The truck was shoved into a yard, remained in gear and ran back into the side of the train. It bounced along for about half a block before disentangling itself. Shelton was treated in Cuiver hospital for minor injuries.

TROUBLES WITH TWO BRANDS OF ENGLISH GO ON

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

London, Oct. 29 (AP)—Years of close transatlantic partnership in war and peace have underscored the argument that although Britons and Americans speak the same language they don't mean the same thing by it.

Contemporary history's dark pages are softened by the unintentional humor of Anglo-American bilingual confusion which prevailed during the years of what the British call the peaceful "GI invasion."

For years to come the demobilized American soldier will chuckle over recollections of the king's English as he tried to understand it.

On this side, too, there are plenty of amusing remembrances of the Americans' piquant patter and of their use of candy and gum as bait to persuade children to talk "English" for them.

Baffling Situations

But the end of the war by no means emptied the land of seemingly daft Yankee cousins, who in daily conversation still find themselves at cross purposes with their hosts.

Of many such baffling situations, pointing up differences of tongue and of concept, the following, a colloquy between an American and his middle-aged hostess, is especially apt:

The guest, wanting to be useful in the kitchen of a country home, volunteered his services.

Accepting with thanks, the woman said: "You might fetch me that bathtub of apples from the hall."

Don't "Take" Baths

"Bathtub? You mean from the bathroom?"

"Of course not. I mean from the hall."

"Do you take baths in the hall?" the American asked.

"What an odd notion! We don't take baths there. For that matter, we don't 'take' them anywhere. We simply keep the bathtub in the hall when it is not being used."

More than somewhat confused, the American went gallantly into the hall, and came back with the tub of apples, his face glowing with the light of understanding.

"Bath In A Bath"

"I get it now," he said. "I didn't know that you meant a washtub."

"I don't mean a washtub. A wash-tub is made of wood and has tin bands around it. This is different. Can't you tell by the shape?"

The light faded. The man asked:

"Then what do you use in the bathroom?"

"The bath, naturally."

"But that's what you do there—take a bath, that is. What I'm trying to get at is, what do you do it in?"

"You bath in a bath. How complicated you make it seem."

Not In A Washtub

"I really would like to get it straight," the American said patiently. "The way I've always known it, you either take a bath, or bathe, in a bathtub, which is a white shiny thing you find in most bathrooms. You don't move a bathtub around. In the country, of course, you sometimes don't have a modern bathtub, so you use a kind of wash-tub. And this thing with apples in it looks like a washtub to me."

"I'd never bath in a washtub," the hostess exclaimed.

"That's the other point to be cleared up. Do you mean 'bathe'?"

"No, I don't. That's what you do in the sea, or in a river, or in a pool or something such as that."

"You swim there," she suggested. Asperity having crept into her rejoinder, matters were left that way.

A Kinsington family laughs over a wartime discussion of radio tubes—"valves" over here. The head of the house, a textile dealer, had been repeatedly puzzled by American nomenclature. Radio "tubes" flooded him. "What has the underground system got to do with the wireless?" he asked helplessly. In his mind, the only tube was London's subway.

REUTHER SAYS BIG BUSINESS BLOCKS LABOR

Philadelphia, Oct. 28 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers, said organized reaction by big business and industry "is on the march in an attempt to block the labor movement."

Addressing the annual convention of District 7, CIO United Steelworkers of America here, Reuther said Sunday these reactionaries "are hell-bent to destroy the gains we have made in the last few years."

The United Automobile Workers' president demanded that labor mobilize its political potentialities as it did its productive powers during the war and drive from Washington those who would defeat the working class.

Unless the rank and file American exercises his right of franchise, to talk about a "slop-basin" at the dinner table.

He was only moderately relieved when he was informed the description fitted a bowl in which to dump tea dregs.

Certain other words and phrases seem even less refined to overseas visitors, but as they are used casually, blithely even by the best people, it is concluded that the English are more Elizabethan now than they ever were.

Reuther added, this country and the whole world will drift into another war.

All will be lost, he continued, unless "labor takes leadership in the political and economic fields."

Says Goods Held Back

The employer, he remarked, has already charted the course of another depression and the "high priests of industry" have committed themselves to a recession. At the same time, he added, they are hoarding the greatest inventory in the history of the country.

The brakes that producers applied in meat production, he declared, are a prime example.

Reuther said that industry alone has "between $36,000,000,000 and $37,000,000,000 worth of goods stored away in warehouses, holding for a price."

"This," he commented, "amounts to the entire national income for 1931."

Reuther announced that negotiations on new wage demands would begin next week with the Chrysler and Packard plants but did not disclose what pay increases would be asked.

The cranberry originally was called the cranberry, after the pink and white blossom that resembles the bill, head and curved neck of the wading crane.

Politics At A Glance

(By The Associated Press)

Harrisburg—U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey says state tuberculosis sanitarium is "only half full" although "thousands are dying" and places blame on Republican administration.

Altoona—Governor Martin says "governmental solvency" is one of the "greatest issues of the campaign."

Pottsville—Guffey says opponents are "spending millions to lick Joe Guffey" because of his excellent voting record on labor matters. John S. Rice, Democratic candidate for governor, says he always worked for and voted for Wagner act.

Harrisburg—Attorney General James H. Duff, GOP candidate for governor, says Daily Workers Communist party paper in New York city, has special Pennsylvania edition urging support of labor candidates on Democratic ticket.

Seventeenth-century pioneers found the cranberry growing wild among beach-plum and bayberry bushes in the clearings behind the Plymouth settlement.

Chapter 8

He wondered how Freya had withstood the imprisonment of her husband, what damage was done to that lifting part of her he knew so well. But she had a strength all her own, it was in the cracking of her curly brown hair, in the moulding of her face. Every five foot seven inches of her suggested strength tempered by feminine grace. As Conrad watched him from the window he wondered how closely their thoughts blended.

"Where do you fit in, Conrad?" "I'm not certain I fit." Here again was that sudden half-promise of assistance.

"They'll try to whittle you down."

Conrad shook his head. "They know I'm only a surgeon."

"You seem to consider that a kind of protection."

"It is . . . no matter what they do, what they become, when they need men like me there are no substitutes."

"But you were never a Nazi."

"No, but I'm still a German. That puts us on opposite sides of the fence." Immoveable against the window he looked like a great statue.

"For people like us," went on Niel quietly, "there are no opposite sides of the fence. Under other circumstances we could be close friends . . . and you know it." He practically hurled his words across the room. Conrad straightened impatiently.

"I wish you wouldn't talk like this or build hopes on my friendship. I have no influence."

"Of course you have your loyalties!" said Niel bitterly then relapsed into silence. Finally Conrad collected the dishes on the tray.

"I'll take these downstairs. Shall I come back?"

"Oh no!" He said it so quickly they both avoided each other's eyes in embarrassment.

"Then we'll meet at dinner," said Conrad quietly.

But Niel didn't really want to be left alone to drive himself mad thinking in circles. He took a few strides after Conrad. "Wait!" Conrad wheeled so abruptly they almost collided. "Couldn't we go for a walk outside," asked Niel miserably, "with a guard, or two guards?"

"We'll take the horses and sleigh."

The look in Niel's eyes made him turn quickly to the door.

They stood in the lower hall near the stairs, greatcoats on, and Conrad was bent almost double over the hall table writing a note, probably informing Steiner of their excursion. Niel had given his word of honor not to attempt escape, given it freely because he had no intention of making a getaway before learning more of the issue at stake. Suddenly from the hall upstairs came lightly running footsteps and a woman called.

"Conrad! . . . wait a minute!" At the head of the stairs she called again. Hers was a husky voice toned with a sweetness rarely attained in the German language. Hand on the newel post Niel looked up. She ran down a few steps before he could see her, then she stopped in a shaft of sunlight, reminding him of a fragile porcelain figurine. Only her golden hair seemed vibrant with life.

At the sight of him her eyes widened and an expression almost of horror swept her face. He felt shock that she could look so on seeing him.

"Come down," Conrad was saying, "come down Stephanie." So slowly she came Niel thought he must remember forever just how she looked, with the staircase curving behind her. Her face was pale, almost expressionless but her long grey eyes steadied now on his face were shadowed by emotion.

Perhaps it was to steady her that Conrad put his arm around her while he introduced them. He held her hand lightly then when he let it go she seemed to have given a silent apology. Her eyes finally fell before his and she turned to Conrad.

"I heard the sleigh bells but I thought you were going alone."

"Come with us," urged Conrad. Plainly he wanted her but she hesitated.

"Please come," said Niel, "or I'll know I frightened you off."

"It will do you good Stephanie," insisted Conrad. "Get your coat, we'll wait outside."

Niel let his eyes follow her up the stairs. At the top she looked back, their glance held for a brief second, then she was gone.

She's different, though Niel, from anyone I've known, so unlike Freya . . . more like one of those melodies Freya played.

For a minute outside the door he stood blinded by the glitter of sunlight on snow, like being shut in a little world by himself and yet a fleeting sense of freedom quickened within him.

"The air!" he said aloud.

"Nothing like it," agreed Conrad. The sleigh was like something out of a picture book but it was the horses that fired his enthusiasm, two matchless black beauties that nickered softly when he drew close, nuzzling against his cheek.

"They belonged to Stephanie's father," explained Conrad. "He loved them."

"Like your grandfather loved his cow," said Niel s
